— UNRAVELED ARTISTS RETURN TO SHOW PHILLY HOW TO TEAR EVERYTHING APART — // CANADA (EP RELEASE PARTY) + AIRACUDA + VISHNU BASEMENT //

Philadelphia, PA — Local Kensington DIY venue HH Ranch (previously known as Hazzard Hall) hosts Unraveled's third annual return to Philly with an atmospheric art installation, experimental dance performance and live music show on the evening of Tuesday, May 17th, 2016 starting at 9 PM.

Including music performances by Airacuda, Vishnu Basement, and Canada whose songs have been rearranged by Unraveled musician and curator Truong Ta will span the sonic realms of alternative and math rock. Removing the standard format of having "sets" and repositioning the audience's perspective on songs as part of a collaborative whole, Truong shows us how Eventually, everything connects.

Installation artist Farida Amar has visualized this by pulling references from HH Ranch's recent history as a bike repair shop. By deconstructing the bike object to use materials that link and connect such as gears and chains combined with light as well as stationary bikes to build abstract structures that power the show itself, Farida pulls together the ideas of movement and cause and effect that make the musicians as well as the listeners feel like individual parts of a whole.

Performance Artist Marina Kec has choreographed separate, simultaneous body movement performance pieces accompanied by Nicole Battestilli, Caitlin Dagle and Brendan Detweiler in which the installation is activated and the music is brought to life.

Wear your brightest biking gear (or all black is fine too) and join us for an evening that will tear everything apart and put it back together.
