UNRAVELED ARTISTS INVITES LOS ANGELES TO STAY UP LATE AND DREAM

Los Angeles, CA — Local venue Lock & Key hosts Unraveled's next show in Los Angeles as part of their ongoing US tour with an atmospheric art installation, experimental performance art piece and live music show on the evening of Tuesday, May 17th, 2016 at 10 PM.

Music performances by The Heavns (Los Angeles/Tijuana), Brandon Tory (Los Angeles) and Model Soul (Los Angeles) will span the sonic realms of psychedelic rock, alternative rock and hip hop. The cross genre selections of live music is a signature style of Unraveled's curatorial team. The show itself is designed as a journey through audio and visual stimuli and presents the audience with an artful escape of reality's limitations for a late night that feels like anything is possible.

Visual artist Raphael Arar (Santa Cruz) shows us how direction replaces time with Wayfinding. This participatory installation includes a set of four electromechanical sculptures that operate in subsequent harmony and discord based on audience, performer and/or environmental impulses. Software manipulates and morphs the sequence at which the sculptures fire, inviting both the environment along with the participant to meddle with a sense of direction amidst time.

Performance Artist Camille Grenier (Los Angeles) will perform a monologue during this show titled, Invocation à Venus. Her performance is a satire commenting on the West losing its monopoly of the world. The mythological goddess Venus (Camille) appears as an oracle to reflect on current ways of life. Both Raphael and Camille's work will be amplified by the lighting and projection designs of visual artist and experimental technologist Will Michaelsen (Los Angeles).
